Streetwork mural brightens Dario's backyard

Written by Dario

I am 53, I'm a huge sport fan and have been involved with a number of charities. I live with my staffy Jake who I have had for ten years now. He is a dog I rescued, but as it turned out he was sent by God to rescue me. He's lovable. He's cheeky, he stares up at me with those gorgeous puppy eyes and I just melt and he gets whatever he wants.

I discussed with Link Wentworth staff what could increase my quality of life and one of the things was getting a mural. Piers my previous social worker was the main driving force behind the mural. He had contacts at Streetwork who mentor young guys to do graffiti art.

On the day that the mural was happening, there was a sausage sizzle. Eight guys from Streetwork came. Piers, Liz and Pablo from Link Wentworth came too.

I used to do graf art in the mid-80s before becoming a rapper and MC. I was one of the most hardcore, old-school rappers in Sydney for five years solid. Graf art has meaning for me being a part of a rap crew. I'd like to get back into my rapping.

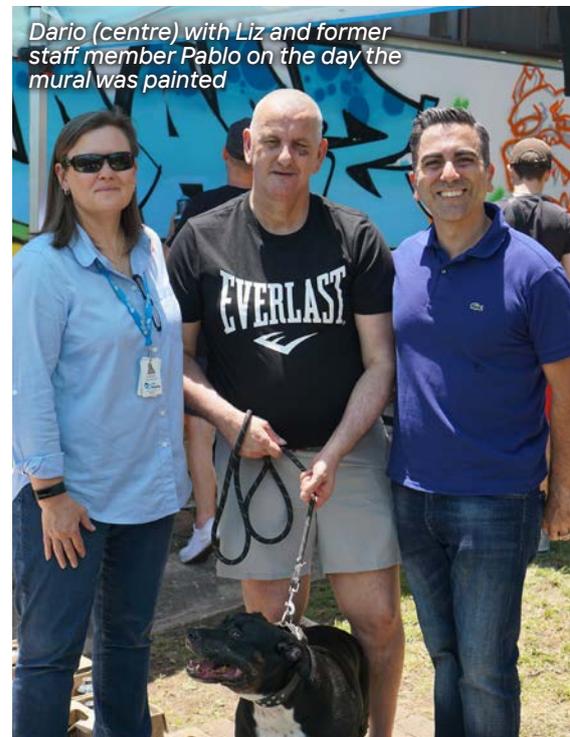

Graf art projects and things like that can provide a quality of life for all age groups. It gives young people an environment where they feel like they're home. Things that are free and bring joy are vital. And art does that.

This mural means the world to me. It brightened up my backyard and my outlook on life. Piers, Pablo and Liz made it happen and I will always be thankful to those three. Piers changed my life.

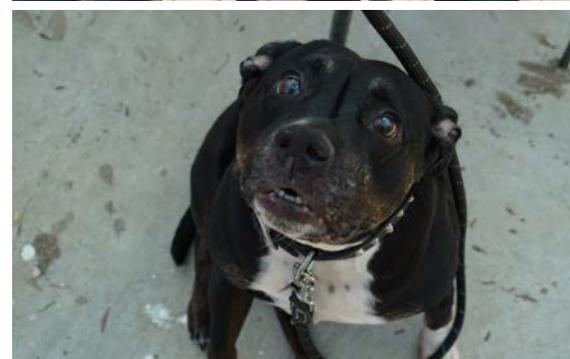

Despite my personal challenges I have quality of life here. I love this place, Jake loves this place. I am trying to improve my life with life coaching and part-time employment.

Link Wentworth is hoping to expand this project with Dario's help and involve other residents.

For more information about Streetwork, the amazing organisation that created the mural, visit www.streetwork.org.au

Hello from Andrew

I am delighted to introduce our second newsletter with our new name “Community Connect”.

I'd like to thank all our residents who put in ideas for the newsletter name. We had some great entries that inspired our new name! Our newsletter has been developed through feedback from our Tenant Advisory Groups (TAGs) and our aim is to bring you articles of interest that connect you to the Link Wentworth community.

As I write this, we are in the midst of lockdown due to the COVID-19 pandemic and I sincerely hope that by the time this newsletter reaches you that lockdown will be over soon, and we can resume our normal lives. During the lockdown we have been proactive in taking action to protect our residents, staff and the broader community and make sure that we still provide quality support and services, even though the delivery has been a bit different.

We were lucky to have celebrated the first stage of our annual art exhibition “No Place Like Home” in June. We had a successful opening night on 10 June at the Dougherty Community Centre in Chatswood, celebrating all our artists and we had the pleasure of Mayor Gail Giles-Gidney saying a few words to our residents. Due to the pandemic, our plans for the Penrith exhibition have been postponed until the end of the year and we will let you know once we have our new dates.

I'd like to encourage you and your family and household members to apply for our annual Scholarship Program. The Program aims to help residents with the costs of studying at school, TAFE or university, and other courses and activities that help them achieve their full potential. Applications close on 12 November and I encourage you to reach out to our Community Programs Team if you need more information or assistance with putting in an application. We have a lot more information in the newsletter and attached so you can take up this great opportunity.

As we spring into the warmer months, we are also launching our Annual Gardening Competition. Our wonderful partner Vegepod is providing free gardening packs so read on to find out how you can get a free pack and take part in this fun event! It's a great way to get outside and enjoy the warm, milder days of spring and nurture your plants.

Take care and stay safe,

Andrew McNulty

Update from Chatswood TAG

Written by Mark Shalovsky

Your local Tenant Advisory Group at Chatswood has been busy this year, notwithstanding the difficulties that we have all had to deal with during the coronavirus pandemic. We have met three times this year and there will be a Christmas lunch on 7 December.

The Chatswood Tenant Advisory Group provides residents with the genuine opportunity to learn about and to comment on Link Wentworth Housing services, policies and procedures. This year, its work has included:

- Receiving regular updates directly from Andrew McAnulty, the Chief Executive Officer.
- Reviewing the new complaints handling procedures.
- Reviewing the selection of new contractors to repair and maintain properties.
- Discussing the new Local Resident Groups, and much more!

Join your local Tenant Advisory Group and have your say. As well as Chatswood, there is a Penrith, Hawkesbury, Blue Mountains and YarnUp Blue Mountains Tenant Advisory Group. ▲

NAMING WINNERS

In the last edition of this newsletter, we asked you to suggest a new name for the newsletter that captures the spirit of our resident community and our new organisation.

And we have our top three winners!

Their ideas were combined by a group of our staff members to create "Community Connect". Congratulations to Link Wentworth residents Steven, Jessica and Paul who each won a $50 Eftpos gift card and thank you everyone for taking the time to contribute your ideas.

We are always keen to hear ideas from our residents. In fact, an idea from our resident led to a new section in this newsletter, Resident Recipes. So, if you have any ideas for the newsletter or important information to include, please email: communications@linkwentworth.org.au ▲

Staying resilient during the pandemic

Written by Susan and Mary

The Link Wentworth Resilience Committee has a message for you about staying resilient during the era of COVID-19. With so many unknowns, it's good to have these tips up your sleeve.

1. Let's keep in contact with each other

Reach out to your friends, either by email, phone or snail mail—as we now have the quality time to actually write letters.

2. Let's start working on some projects

Start or continue those crafts and hobbies you have always wanted to do and never had quality time to achieve.

3. Let's get physical

We cannot use our hydrotherapy or other swimming pools or gyms, but most organisations have self-help activities on their websites. Reach out to your gym or physiotherapist to see if they have online classes. You could also go for a walk outside or a bike or scooter ride—just make sure you wear a mask if the path is busy.

4. Let's look after our mental health

Let's stay resilient and take control of our mental health. Do not let this blip on our history take control of you. Remember if you need someone to talk to, there is always Redcross's Telecross service on 1300 885 698 or Lifeline on 13 11 14. You can also call the NSW Mental Health Line on 1800 011 511.

5. Let's keep safe

Wear a mask, use the hand sanitiser, stay one-and-a-half metres away from others. In general, stay home and watch the world go by.

Support for residents

We are living in challenging times and at the time of writing this article we are in the midst of the Greater Sydney lockdown due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Sometimes things can get difficult, and we need some extra help or advice. Please reach out to your Housing Manager or CSO. They can refer you to support services or our Specialist Support Team who can help you and provide referrals to employment and education opportunities, social connections or physical and mental health services. Our Specialist Support Team members have backgrounds in housing, disability, case management, community and social work. They can help you achieve your goals, maintain your health and wellbeing and sustain your tenancy.

Get your COVID-19 vaccination

No matter where you are in Australia, the COVID-19 vaccine is free. You can get a dose at your nearest hospital or GP.

We encourage you to find out if you're currently eligible and book an appointment using the vaccine eligibility checker website. You can Google 'COVID-19 Vaccines Eligibility Checker' or type the following link into your chosen browser: <https://covid-vaccine.healthdirect.gov.au/?lang=en>

If you don't have access to a computer, you can also call 1800 022 222.

For any further questions you may have about receiving the vaccine, and which vaccine is right for you, we encourage you to speak to your GP. Remember, vaccinations are about keeping ourselves and our community safe. ▲

Link Wentworth to deliver more housing

One of our motivations in forming Link Wentworth was to create an organisation that can deliver more housing for those who most need it. We are excited to announce that we have recently been awarded a tender by Landcom to deliver 95 affordable housing units in North Ryde. The partnership between Landcom and Link Wentworth will deliver a 100 per cent affordable housing development that will involve innovative rental and ownership options.

Link Wentworth has also been awarded funding through the Commonwealth Government's Safe Places Emergency Accommodation program to build short-term housing in the Hawkesbury for women and children escaping domestic and family violence to have a safe and secure place to stay. We anticipate commencing construction later this year on four self-contained units with the capacity to accommodate four women and eight to ten children. ▲
